Georgetown's Indoor Meet Promises Big Things.

HARVARD CRACK ENTERED

John L. Barr, Crimson Pole Vaulter, and Washington Boy, Will Be on Hand-Princeton Also to Be Well Represented-Georgetown-Virginia Relay Race Will Be Exciting.

Communications received from the various colleges and athletic clubs during the past week indicate that Georgetown's eleventh annual indoor meet, March 6, will be the most pretentious ever attempted by the Blue and Gray.

The scheduling of the games this year for inauguration week has met with the approval of all Georgetown's supporters. The contingent of ex-collegians in the city at the time for the inauguration ceremonies will outshine anything of the kind ever before known, and it is the desire and expectation of Manager Corcoran to make the Georgetown meet for 1909 & thorough collegiate meet from start

Princeton, last year's winner of the point trophy, is expected to put in an appearance at the inaugural week games and strive to repeat her performance of 1908. Capt. Gamble, of the Tigers, has called his men out already, and from present prospects Princeton will have an exceptionally strong team in the field this season.

If present plans materialize, Harvard will be added to the usual list of contestants this year. The Cambridge athletes are big favorites in Washington, and, along with Yale, will form the big feature entries, providing both schools consent to make the trip. Kid Lavigne Declares that Johnson Will Turn Down Ail Offers to Fight Big Fellows Until Easy Money Is Cleaned Up-Battling Nelson Making a Lot of Fighting Talk.

San Francisco, Jan. 9.-James Coffroth, the fight premoter, believes he will be the one to get James J. Jeffries to reconsider his determination never again to enter the fistic arena. Not only is Coffroth confident that the Los Angles farmer will fight again, but he hopes to secure the retired champion's signature o a set of articles to meet Jack Johnson, the negro champion, on July 3, in his Mission Street Club.

To-night Coffroth declared that Johnson has signified a willingness to fight Jeff, and he is only waiting for the retired champion to come here for his vaudeville engagement to close terms with him. Already Coffroth has begun enlarging his arena with the prospect of securing the match.

"When Jeffries arrives in this city," sald Coffroth to-night, "I expect to get his promise to fight Johnson. I know Jeff has a sneaking desire to get back in harness and when he comes here I will make him a proposition he cannot overlook.
